

A vos choix

Every day, in every aspect of life (work, consumption, love, commitment, distribution of wealth, climate), we make choices. What do they tell us about ourselves? Are they free choices or not?

And, what if we wished to stop disturbing the climate, what if we wished to establish real social justice... what choices would we be capable of making?

Would we dare explain the whys and wherefores of the collapse of our society?

We invite you to think about it... and to laugh at it... through song!
