

Le Paradoxe de Billy

Ludovic Drouet

Belgium | Theatre

It's night in the forest. Two bodies are found. A man and a woman. An inspector rushes to the scene. He examines the facts: score-settling or ritual murder?

Every detail counts. It's a puzzle.

But something doesn't ring true in his investigation. Something else seems to have happened here. A new kind of hunt is about to begin.

How do we react when we have to deal with something out of the ordinary and that we can't control?

How do we relate to what we can't understand?

Le Paradoxe de Billy is an experience blending theatre, sound effects and video installation. A thriller where the audience gradually realises that the initial crime is hiding something far bigger.

« Le Paradoxe de Billy reels us in with its convincing performances and skillful time construction and narrative. An intriguing discovery! » Le Vif (2021)
