

Le Père

Julien Gosselin / Based on L'homme incertain by Stéphanie Chaillou

France | Theatre

Le Père is the stage version of L'Homme incertain, by the novelist Stéphanie Chaillou. A man reflects on his childhood dreams: buy a farm, work the land, raise livestock, get married and have children. The world the farmer knows transforms beyond recognition when an agricultural policy comes into force. He is riddled with debt and goes bankrupt at 30 in 1977. How does he see his past? Julien Gosselin brings us an intimate performance by Laurent Sauvage where a man's fate is turned upside down by an economic situation he can't control. How can he get his life back on track given society's views of success and failure?

«Understated and intense, the actor excels in the play directed Julien Gosselin...» Libération (2018)
